

Goldilocks

By Madeleine. ½ blue

“Aaaahh!” yells goldilocks as she jumps off the balcony. When she looked down she sees a little pussy cat holding her so she does not touch the ground. “Hola says the cat. I am pus in boots and you are?” Goldilocks stammered. “Nice to meet you.”

“The pleasure is all mine” said pus in boots. Just then pus in boots started to purr and then went to sleep. Soon he woke up. Goldilocks carried him into the woods. “I have just ran away from that little cottage because it belongs to 3 bears” goldilocks said. “Fear not” said pus in boots. “I shall sleigh this bears. Sorry for interrupting. Carry on.” “I ate their porridge and i broke the baby bears chair. I also slept in their bed that belonged to baby bear.” “Sorry for falling asleep” said puss in boots” “It’s ok” said goldilocks. “Aaahh” yells a familiar voice. “The bears are chasing me. “

“It’s little red riding hood!” whispers goldilocks. Goldilocks rushes to get little red riding hood and they all run further into the woods. “Let’s go to my Nan’s house” says little red riding hood.

Yes they all chorus. They just made it to little red riding hoods Nan’s house. Goldilocks has to stay there for a few weeks. Luckily puss in boots is now goldilocks pet kitty cat. They toasted marshmallows and built a treehouse in the backyard. They went to a candy store near town on their bikes they got for Christmas. They also did lots of art and made a pretty self portrait. They made puss in boots a fluffy rainbow bed out of cotton balls and fabric. They all lived happily ever after.
